(b) and (c) The authorities do not try to manage or control prices, they endeavour to build systems and practices to deepen and broaden markets which can withstand volatility. The Government has put in place systems and practices to promote a safe, transparent and efficient market and to protect market integrity. The systems instituted include advanced risk management mechanisms comprising on-line monitoring and surveillance, various limits on positions, margin requirements, circuit filters, etc. Measures taken to broaden and deepen markets include: screen based trading system, dematerialization of securities, corporatization and demutualization of exchanges, settlement through clearing corporation, trading in derivatives, etc.

Under the current regulatory regime, the price is discovered by the market through book building mechanism, while the authorities endeavour to make all relevant information available to market participants including issues and investors for making informed investment decisions.
